Re: United States v. Mout'z Soudani
24 CR 555 (CS)(JCM)

Dear Judge Seibel:

I am writing to respectfully request a court conference for a modification of Mr. Soudani's bail conditions. On September 24, 2024, Mr. Soudani's bail conditions were consented to by the parties: a one-million dollar bond secured by $100,000 cash, $800,000 in property, surrender of his passport, strict pre-trial supervision and the bond signed by one financially responsible person. Mr. Soudani has surrendered his passport, posted $100,000 cash, has further secured $800,000 through a Confession of Judgment with the Orange County Clerk fully secured by his commercial property. Mr. Soudani has also located an individual whom he has a close relationship for over ten years and who is willing to sign the bond. However, this individual does not have sufficient assets to qualify as a financially responsible person. Despite diligent efforts, Mr. Soudani has not been able to locate a financially responsible person to sign the bond.

Considering the above, I proposed to the Government that Mr. Soudani is prepared to post an additional $100,000 cash to fully secure the $1 million bond ($200,000 cash and $800,000 property). By fully securing the $1 million bond there is no need for a financially responsible person. Recently, in similar cases the government has agreed to fully secure bonds without FRPs. (See, United States v. Senator Robert Menendez, 23 CR 490 (Senator Menendez and his wife's $250,000 bond secured by their home with no financially responsible person; Senator Menendez's co-defendant Jose Uribe 1 million bond secured by property without a financially responsible co-signer; co-defendant Fred Daibes bond secured by property without a financially responsible co-signer). I have the $100,000 bank check in my firms safe to be deposited with the Clerk. The Government indicated that the additional $100,000 may not be sufficient for them, they may want more cash or electronic monitoring but that they were open to a discussion.

I have reached out to United States Attorney's office but have not heard back yet to see if we could arrive at a resolution. Since the remaining bail condition has not been satisfied or otherwise agreed to, I am respectfully requesting the Court schedule a conference next Wednesday 10/30, Thursday 10/31 in the afternoon or Friday 11/1 or Monday 11/4 or Wednesday 11/6 to address the remaining bail condition. I am traveling today and will be attending a family funeral Monday 10/28 and Tuesday 10/29.

Thank you for your consideration.

Respectfully,

Michael K. Burke
